I wanted to take a moment to sing the praises of Breakaway Press. As someone who works at Wasserman, I've had the pleasure of using their services for about 2.5 years, and I can't speak highly enough of them.

Breakaway Press has been our go-to for various events in Los Angeles, including Beauty Influencer Events, Sales Conferences, Mobile Tours, and more.

They handle everything from large-scale projects to smaller print jobs with incredible efficiency. We've had some pretty tight deadlines, and they always manage to meet them without compromising on quality. Their friendly and accommodating team makes every project a smooth and enjoyable experience.

One of the standout features of Breakaway Press is their exceptional customer service. The team is incredibly friendly, accommodating, and genuinely dedicated to making sure every project is a success. Working with them has been a pleasure, and their professionalism and attention to detail make them a standout choice for any printing needs.

If you're looking for reliable, high-quality printing with a personal touch, I highly recommend Breakaway Press. They've proven to be an invaluable partner for us, and I'm confident they'll exceed your expectations as well.
